MEMORANDUM FOR: National Intelligence Officer for East Asia
FROM: Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT: Southeast Asia

Two things attracted my attention on Southeast Asia recently.

1. We had a report during the last few days that a traveling Soviet diplomat had stated, I believe in Japan, that Thailand would fall "like a house of cards" if it did not ease off on supporting Kampuchean dissidents.
2. Then we had a report yesterday that the Singaporean Foreign Minister had stated that his government had decided that it no longer would "gamble small" in Kampuchea and was prepared to support non-communist resistance to the tune of 50-100 million Singaporean dollars. How much is that in real money?
